

THE CALLAHAN LAW FIRM

MICHAEL S. CALLAHAN

paralysis, brain injury, loss of limb, burns and wrongful death. "There is a powerful story in every case. We strive to find that story and then tell it. We give people a voice."

The Callahan Law Firm did just that in a recent trial. A 27-year-old plaintiff was rendered paraplegic when a cement truck crashed into her vehicle. Traumatized, she suffered in silence for months, unable to talk about the crash. "In the meantime, investigators and the billion-dollar defendant blamed her. Everyone was against her," Callahan says. "I decided to wait and give her a chance to tell me what happened. And when she did, there was no way I could not stand for her."

Callahan says his firm represents "regular folks" in trucking crashes, defective products cases, drilling rig and pipeline injuries, industrial workplace injuries and maritime accidents.

MORE THAN THE LAW In addition to his law degree, Callahan has a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering that allows him "to better understand the physics behind why an accident happens, the cause[s] and what could have prevented it."

"Success as a people's trial lawyer is about hard work, focus and preparation," he says. "But most importantly, I believe it's about being human and real. At the end of the day, there is no greater honor than getting justice for a deserving client."

MEMBERSHIPS Michael Callahan is a member of the American Association for Justice, the Texas Trial Lawyers Association and the Texas Bar. He is also a graduate of the prestigious Trial Lawyers College founded by Gerry Spence.

But as a person, he's a member of the same trials and tribulations everyone faces. "I have been blessed in my life in terms of things that matter—the intangibles," he says. "But I know what it's like to feel alone, rejected and without hope. It's a hard place to be, and it's a place where many that I represent find themselves. I want to be there for them, discover their stories and get them justice."

Fighting for People

MICHAEL CALLAHAN IS A TRIAL LAWYER FOR PEOPLE. HE and his firm represent individuals and their families whose lives have been shattered through the legal fault of others. At The Callahan Law Firm, we are committed to getting full justice.

GIVING PEOPLE A VOICE "We believe that representing people is about discovering the story of who they are, what happened to them, and where the defendant has left them," says Callahan, who focuses on cases involving spinal cord injury,
